

Welcome to My Life

FASHION DIRECTOR MELISSA RUBINI ON
WHAT'S SPARKING HER #CURRENTMOOD

1

Outside Blenheim Palace in Dior

4

1-2 I spent a very glamorous 24 hours in Monte Carlo to view the latest in precious gems from Bulgari (those earrings!). As if the jewelry weren't spectacular enough, the poolside dinner afterward featured a performance by synchronized swimmers. 3 Just the day before, I had taken the Orient Express from London to Blenheim Palace for Dior's resort show. I don't know which was more tempting, the clothes or the macarons served at tea. 4 Then it was off to Normandy for a vacation with my boyfriend. For the record: Chateau La Cheneviere is the most romantic hotel, and the food is perfection.

2

3

GUCCI MANIA

5

5 Gucci held its resort collection extravaganza in London this season, and you could see a British influence in the wonderfully eccentric looks. My favorites? All those florals. 6 When my schedule gets crazy with traveling, I bring Sisley face oil with me. You apply it before bed and wake up with skin that's completely replenished and fresh. 7 Going to Cuba for Chanel Resort 2017 was an amazing experience. Exploring the culture was eye-opening, and the show itself ended with everyone dancing in the street. Now, that's a party!

6 Sisley Black Rose Precious Face Oil, $235; sisley-paris.com.